Hi Mel

Thanks for the reply.

Although I might agree with you when you are saying that the price is more than you expected, but the job is done and we have to pay for it.

I also don't know "what you expected", you should tell it me before, when I tried to discuss the problem with you but you showed no interest to be involved in the issue.

And certainly, "you did not engaged the service" because your unit was not directly effected but I did a reasonable effort to keep you informed about what's going on.

I don't have any official quotes from other companies but the guy, who cleaned our drain before, briefly mentioned about one grand.

Unfortunately, this person never came back to fix the problem, so I had to find another people willing to do the job. By the way, I want to remind you that the previous contractor cleaned our sewer twice before and we paid the FULL price, you did not pay a penny.

I don't understand what do you mean by saying that "$1200 was wasted here" but you probably can get the full details of the job from the company.

Likewise, you probably can discuss with them the the possibility to pay by instalments.

Regards

Bob
